PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

Beaconsfield.

July, 1947.

Dear Old Boys,

Councillor Horley tells me that he is short of copy for the Magazine and that he might use his influence to publish a message from the President. He suggests a "fighting message." But I can't for the life of me think what I can urge Old Boys to fight about, particularly as so many of them are, I imagine, taking a well-deserved rest after the recent unpleasantness. In the good old days it was different. Some of us were ready to spill blood and go to the stake in noble causes. For instance, there was the
